PERSHING MAY BE VISITOR AT REUNION OF VETERANS

Invitation to General John J. Pershing to attend the reunion of the Confederate Veterans to be held in Atlanta has been suggested to General Nathan B. Forrest, chairman in chief, B. C. V. by S. H. King, Jr., in a telegram. In a copy that was sent to him by Mr. King, he would suggest that you appoint me committee to extend the invitation to General John J. Pershing to be our honored guest at the reunion. It is my belief that he will appreciate our thought of him and will attend. It is this man who saw Dixie's sons fight on French soil. He will be glad to tell how they fought.

PREACHER PRAISES AMERICAN FIGHTERS

SIGHT OF OUR SOLDIERS IN FOREIGN LAND MAKES BARTON DOUBLY PROUD OF HIS NATIVITY.

Think the high cost of living problem must be faced in a fine plan through other channels and never by an organization of the class of people who "pay the freight," the salaried class, is the opinion of Al G. Heggen, petroleum engineer and student of economics.

"As long as the determined spirit of the average American pervades the United States, I do not see an impossibility of organization in the third and most powerful class," said Heggen.

An attempt of organization for this class would fail, because the individual American is too anxious to fight his own pocketbook.

As an individual, I would much prefer to have a pension on account of the occasion it probably originated in Germany and respectable nation are out casting to the "made in Germany" trade any more.
